Action Asked Against Cuba's Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—An up-roar of demands for decisive action against Cuba's Fidel Castro was touched off in Congress by the seizure today of a Continental Airlines jet plane at El Paso, Tex.

There was a general assumption that Castro was behind the seizure of the plane by gunmen who said they wanted to go to Cuba.

Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., said that if it is established that there was a conspiracy involving Castro "it is an act of war and should be dealt with accordingly."

Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand, R-Calif., sent a telegram to President Kennedy demanding that this country "quit playing pato to a pipsqueak and call a halt to continuing disgraces by Communist Cuba."

Hiestand said the United States should topple Castro's regime, set up a temporary government and pave the way to free elections.

"What better foundation could we have in Berlin than to seize the initiative in Cuba?" he asked.

Hiestand said Kennedy should set a deadline for return of the Eastern Air Lines plane hijacked and flown to Cuba last month, and, if Castro doesn't return the plane, send U.S. Marines to get it.

Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, told the Senate "this has gone about as far as we can allow it to go."

Bridges introduced a bill to make it a criminal offense to carry concealed weapons aboard an airliner.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., called the hijacking of planes "modern piracy" and said the United States should "quarantine Cuba and throw a naval and air blockade around her until Castro purges himself and gives proof that he will not permit recurrence of such excesses."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said that the administration's "soft action" toward Castro, far from improving United States relations in Latin America is "losing us the respect of other countries."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Ill. nois, the Senate Republican leader, said the time has come for "decisive action" against Castro. "We lost a precious opportunity in last week's plane incident when an ultimatum was not served on Castro," Dirksen declared.

Heart Attack Fatal

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Bruce Logan, 53, of Walnut Ridge suffered a heart attack and died Wednesday while here for the American Legion junior baseball tournament. Logan was area baseball commissioner for the Legion and was manager of the Van Atkins Department Store at Walnut Ridge. Survivors include his wife, two sons, his mother and four brothers. Funeral arrangements were pending.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said that the administration's "soft action" toward Castro, far from improving United States relations in Latin America is "losing us the respect of other countries."

Single Blow Ends Plane Hijacking

By BILL RICHARDSON

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A father-and-son team hijacked a jet airliner Thursday, caused a furor in Congress, and were captured by one blow from an enraged U.S. Border Patrol official.

The hijacker pair, Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cidy Bearden, 16, were bound over to a federal grand jury under bonds totaling $200,000.

On orders from President Kennedy not to deal with the hijackers, that he would not be blackmailed, Border Patrol men shot the tires from the $5-million Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet as it rolled toward a takeoff for Havana, Cuba.

Then, his nine-hour adventure coming to a fast climax, Bearden allowed FBI men aboard as the hostages left the plane—all but Leonard Gilman. Gilman is associate deputy regional commissioner of the Border Patrol and lives in Long Beach, Calif.

When Bearden for a moment dropped his eyes, Gilman with one bone-breaking wallop knocked him to the plane deck, his cheek spurting blood. Gilman's broken hand later was placed in a cast. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington the elder Bearden in January had visited the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City and indicated a desire to go to Cuba. But the general feeling in Washington appeared to be the Cuban government had no part in the latest U.S. plane hijacking.

Husbands Yearn to Be Hero at Home

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you yearn to be a hero in your own home?

Many a husband does, but he doesn't know how to go about it. Actually, there isn't any great secret to it. A word to the wives is usually sufficient—provided it is the right word.

The failure of most husbands to attain the stature of a household god is a failure of communication. They don't know the right way to talk to their wives.

Here are a few tested sentences bound to make you the man-of-a-lifetime in your own living room—and also guaranteed to make every other husband in the block your mortal foe:

"I know you've had a hard day, dear. You go in and curl up with a good book. I'll cook dinner and do the dishes."

"Put down that pail this very moment! No wife of mine is ever going to carry out the garbage."

"You're absolutely right, dear. I'm going to ask the boss for a raise today, and if he says no—then I'll ask him again tomorrow."

"Write your mother back right now, and tell her we'll be glad to have her come for a visit anytime—and stay as long as she can."

"I look out another $10,000 worth of life insurance. If anything happens to me, I want you and the kids fully protected."

"Gee, I can't stand it when most women talk baseball. But you're different. You really understand the game."

"The new dress looks swell on you, but don't you think you ought to have a new coat and a new hat to kind of set it off?"

"You can go back to sleep. All he's probably yawning about is he wants a diaper change. I'll get up and fix him."

"Don't worry about that dent in the fender, dear. After all, we've had the car for a full month, and as for the garage door—I probably can fix it myself. The whole thing isn't worth fretting about. It could happen to anybody."

"If the boss asks me to go on the road next week, I think I'll quit. A week away from you seems like six months."

"No wonder Brigitte Bardot's husband had a nervous breakdown. She can't cook the way you do."

"So why do I have to play golf just because it's Saturday. You stay home and rest, and I'll take the kids to the zoo."

Neighbors Shocked by Plane Scheme

COOLIDGE, Ariz. (AP)—The fantastic scheme of an itinerant car salesman and his teen-age son to swipe a $5 million jet airliner and fly it to Cuba shocked their family and friends.

"Ordinary, likeable citizens," was the consensus of Arizona acquaintances of Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cidy, 16. The two are held at El Paso, Tex., on federal charges of hijacking a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet and kidnapping its 67 passengers and six crew members.

Most puzzled of all by Thursday's escapade was Bearden's wife, Mary Ruth, 36.

She told newsmen in her modest Coolidge home her husband never mentioned Cuba, expressed no interest in airplanes, jet or otherwise, and didn't have any guns around the house.

He's been such a good husband and a good father. He never runs around. He plays tennis with me and the children all the time."

She said Cidy is a regular boy who likes to sing and play the guitar and is popular with girls. Cidy and his brother, Daryl, 5, often chopped cotton for farmers in the area, she said.

The couple has two other children, Jimmy 7, and Juni, a 14-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Bearden said she knew her husband had a criminal record.

Los Angeles-to-Houston flight came soon after the aircraft had stopped at Phoenix, Ariz., and 20 minutes from El Paso on Texas' far western tip.

Bearden and his son, a slightly built blond, entered the cockpit behind two stewardesses.

"We're going to take this plane to Cuba," the elder Bearden told Capt. B. D. Rickards, the plane's commander. "After your course 45 degrees to the south."

Rickards, a veteran of 34 years of flying, alerted El Paso International Airport, with a code word that the plane was hijacked. They persuaded Bearden that the plane had too little fuel for the Cuban flight and that they must land at El Paso to refuel.

Rickards said Bearden told him there were four armed men on the plane and the captain so mesmerized the El Paso airport. This caused some confusion for a time and also caused two of the hijackers to be roughed up as they landed.

Berlin May Be Dreary Issue to Historians

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thousand years from now historians, rummaging around in the East-West diplomacy of our day, may conclude: "What a dreary, monotonous, unimaginative time that was."

For almost three years there has been endless jabber-jabber over Berlin, with neither side coming up with a really new idea except perhaps some skinny concession which neither pleased nor placated anyone.

Now the whole thing is to be done over again, and probably with the same result.

It was late in 1958 when Premier Khrushchev started the fuss flying with his demand the West get out of Berlin. What he had, mainly, was a big yen to take it over. Even this wasn't new. Stalin had tried it 10 years before.

Such a situation, of course, required a meeting of the Western foreign ministers. But they couldn't seem to think of anything more forward looking than not budging. Then they met with the Russian foreign minister and nobody budged.

Khrushchev finally agreed to an intermission when President Eisenhower asked him over for a visit. Out of this eventually came agreement for a summit meeting in Paris in May, 1960.

Such a situation, of course, required a meeting of the Western foreign ministers. The purpose of their session: To decide what the West should do when Khrushchev sat down with Eisenhower, French President De Gaulle, and British Prime Minister Macmillan.

It was a bleak foreign minister's meeting. They didn't seem able to think of anything beyond standing pat. And by late April, 1960, this writer summed up the total accomplishment after all the talk:

"The Western allies, with months to prepare, apparently are going to the summit meeting with Russia next month with no new ideas. And Russia, despite some big talk, hasn't produced any new ones, either."

It was a summit meeting which never came off. Khrushchev wrecked it after the American U2 spy plane was shot down over Russia. But the main factor in what he did may have been this: The Western diplomats by this time had made the whole prospect of a summit meeting look so dismal that Khrushchev may have felt he'd save face by not having the meeting at all.

Now it starts again. Once more Khrushchev has demanded the Allies get out of Berlin. Once more they've said he'd better not try to force them and once more the talking begins.

This weekend the Western foreign ministers meet in Paris to discuss Berlin. It will be extraordinary, in view of the past record, if they come up with anything more original than a communiqué which says they are

ord. "But I don't think it is important."

"I'm married to him and I do owe my loyalty to him. I will stick by him."

Bodies Found by Diver in 150' Water

BERGSWIL, Switzerland (AP)

A diver feeling his way through the murky depths of Lake Lucerne today found some of the bodies of 15 American tourists trapped when their bus plunged off a scenic highway.

"I saw several bodies jammed in the mud inside the bus," the diver, Siegfried Naumann, told newsmen.

"It was quite impossible to count how many there were. Everything was covered in mud, and the visibility in the water was barely more than three feet—even with my lamp."

Naumann succeeded in fastening a steel cable to the bus and planned to tie another. Charges to raise with heavy cranes stood by to raise it.

The vacation bus came to rest upside down 130 feet deep in the lake. The body of a 16th victim was recovered earlier.

The bus, carrying 35 American tourists and a crew of three, veered off into the lake Wednesday after colliding with a truck. The crew and 19 of the passengers—mostly teachers—escaped while the vehicle rested momentarily in shallow water.

The only body recovered was identified as that of Miss Julia R. Schulz of Altoona, Pa. Identification was made through a bracelet she was wearing.

Naumann, one of land-locked Switzerland's few deep sea divers, first located the bus Thursday but was unable to fasten the cable.

Police officials said Naumann told them he thought there were at least eight bodies in the bus, but he was not certain.

All but two of the 15 missing are women. The police feared that several of them may have been washed out of the wreck and may never be found.

The highway near the scene of the accident was still closed to traffic, and thousands of vacationing motorists had to make a 60-mile detour between Lucerne and Interlaken, Switzerland's most popular summer resorts.

Rice Support Price

WASHINGTON (AP)—Average support price for the 1961 rice crop will be $4.71 per hundredweight, slightly above last year's $4.42 average. The Agriculture Department disclosed the final average support price Wednesday and said it was the same as the minimum announced prior to planting time last March. Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and California are the nation's major rice-growing states.

After they go through this it is likely there will be a Western summit meeting—President Kennedy, De Gaulle, Macmillan, West German Chancellor Adenauer—to talk perhaps about a summit summit with Khrushchev later.

It's easy to understand that even if the Westerners did find some new approach they wouldn't tip their hand to Khrushchev before they sat down with him when, in exchange for some concession from them, they'd want one from him.

The only trouble with this reasoning—just remember the 1955 summit meeting, the years of talks on disarmament and the talks on a nuclear test ban—is that nobody budges and new ideas are few.

Wife Resents Being Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Mine is a problem shared by many wives. I'm a shut-in-wife — a captive Alice-sit-by-the-fire. Every weekend here am I, stuck at home with the kids while my husband steps out, his excuse being that a baby sitter costs money we don't have. Phooey. But this isn't all. Last week, as I emptied hubby's pants' pockets, readying his suit for the cleaner's, I found a list of women's names and addresses. When confronted with the evidence that night he hemmed and hawed, then blurted out the truth: giving all the sordid details. Of course I was hurt. But he promised never to stray again so I believed him—until this week-end, when his fury repeated itself, with variations. The girl in the case was my so-called best friend. I still love him and he me. Are we crazy? —Mixed tip

Mr. Fox identified the man lying in the street as a Mr. Knox, who had been with Mr. Fox in the tavern a few minutes earlier. Fox said that he had said goodbye to his friend and had turned to walk to a nearby parking lot to get his car when the accident occurred. He had not seen what happened.

"I think he went across the street to hail a taxi," said Fox.

The officers checked with the proprietor of the tavern. Yes, the two men had been there, but neither had been drinking very much.

"How did they act? Angry?"

"Nothing unusual in their actions," said the man. "They argued, but a lot of people have arguments here."

The officer wore a doubting expression. Obviously the tavern proprietor had not heard the arguments and couldn't tell whether it was a serious disagreement or not.

Once more Fox was questioned. "The man at the bar said you had an argument with Knox. Was it an angry argument?" the officer asked.

"Just a friendly argument," said Fox nervously. "We talked about politics."

"When you left, did you continue the argument?"

Fox shrugged. "We talked a little, I guess. Then Knox wished me good afternoon and I left. I suppose he stepped right into the street."

"How did you know he wanted to get a taxi?" the officer asked. "He mentioned it as we left the tavern," said Fox.

The officer asked a few other questions and then talked to the driver of the car. The driver hadn't seen Knox until he hit the man.

The officer ordered Fox to stick around and attempted to find other witnesses. But people did not want to be involved. Or really hadn't seen what had taken place. Still, something in Fox's story didn't ring true. The more the officer thought about it, the more certain he was the Fox was lying.

Finally the police officer decided he had learned enough. He took Fox to the police station and booked him on suspicion of murder.

SUSPENSE

A Short Short Story © 1961 by NEA, Inc.

The wailing of sirens announced that another traffic casualty had been put into the record.

By CHALMER DELONG WEST

It was rush hour in the evening. Homebound traffic moved slowly down the one-way street while two men emerged from a tavern, talking heatedly as they approached the curb.

Because the street was crowded, no one noticed particularly what happened. There was a scream of brakes, a startled cry and a sickening thud. Afterwards only one man stood at the curb, the other lay silent in the street.

The wailing of sirens announced that another traffic casualty had been put into the record.

Police officers, investigating the accident, talked to Mr. Fox, the companion of the victim.

Mr. Fox identified the man lying in the street as a Mr. Knox, who had been with Mr. Fox in the tavern a few minutes earlier. Fox said that he had said goodbye to his friend and had turned to walk to a nearby parking lot to get his car when the accident occurred. He had not seen what happened.

plied "to get a lot of doctors and officers out of the 184th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron at Fort Smith."

He said such action is impossible. The 184th was among several Air National Guard units alerted earlier this week for possible reactivation.

In his discussion with Riales about the proposed De Queen armory, Clinger said the drop in priority was made by the National Guard Bureau in Washington, not the state office.

Clinger illustrated political pressure by describing the sale of an armory at Blytheville. He said he gave in to Blytheville and its state representative and sold an armory to the YMCA. Now, he said, the Blytheville guard is in two metal buildings on the outskirts of town and Blytheville has not extended utility lines to them, as it promised to do.

He also said he allowed an armory to be sold at Jonesboro for $47,500.

The Children's Colony argument includes a discussion on whether the facility needs a $1 million treatment center for retarded adults. Riales said he felt the State Hospital was the proper place for retarded adults.

Royal said mental age, not chronological age, should tell where a patient belongs.

"I've been here 57 years and I've been in the legislature a long time," Fagan said, "and he (Ray) doesn't have to come down here and tell me how to appropriate money."

He said he would not vote for a dime more than $25,000 for the colony.

Ray was called to explain a $724 telephone bill. Riales called the bill excessive, but Ray said it was for two months and included $600 in fixed switchboard charges ($300 per month).

Fagan refused to apologize for a remark he made Wednesday: that the colony was a country club. He did say he meant a country club for the administrators, not for the children. Fagan called Ray "a prima donna who is trying to build a little empire up there."

Fagan said A. Nils Florentz of Little Rock, chairman of the colony board never has given him any credit for helping the colony even though Fagan found the first money to start construction of the institution. Fagan said he did not want credit, but only "some recognition."

EDITOR'S NOTE—The spectacle of people running from the republic the Communists have created in East Germany is one that galls the Reds, a drain they would like to plug. It also adds fuel to the fire which keeps the pot of crisis aboil in Berlin. In this last of a series of articles on the background of the crisis, AP reporter John Bausman tells the story of the refugees.

By JOHN BAUSMAN

BERLIN (AP)—For the past 12 years police of Communist East Germany have been tramping up to abandoned homes, fixing a seal on the door and preparing to auction the household goods.

They are the homes of people who left just about everything behind to flee to the West.

Since 1949, when the Communist regime was set up in Soviet-occupied Germany, more than 2,600,000 persons have come to the West. They give continued evidence of discontent with Communist rule. They are key figures in recurrent Berlin crises.

The vast majority of these refugees funnel through West Berlin, a far easier escape route than trying to cross the tightly guarded iron curtain border that divides East and West Germany.

West Berlin, still occupied by the Atlantic Allies of World War II, is an island of Western territory 110 miles inside that barbed-wire barrier. The refugee who makes his way to East Berlin has little trouble getting to the Western side via subway or elevated train. From there he is flown to West Germany, skipping border controls on the land route.

The Communists would love to close this escape route. For years the East Germans, with Soviet backing, have been seeking control of all routes to and from Berlin.

The flight of refugees makes East Germany the only modern industrial nation in the world with a declining population.

The refugees are a cross-section of life, with industrial workers and laborers forming the biggest group. There are farmers, tradesmen, housewives, students and such highly trained people as doctors, engineers and teachers.

This last group of intellectuals and experts is a small part of the total refugee flood, but one that hurts the Communists. In the six-year period from 1954 to 1960, East Germany lost 35,000 intellectuals, including 14,000 engineers and 4,000 doctors and dentists. Western sources estimate the

Department Store Sales Identical

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended July 29 were virtually the same as those of the identical week of last year.

Sales in the Louisville area jumped 32 per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities climbed three per cent.

But this was offset by a drop of five per cent in the St. Louis area and of nine per cent in Memphis and Little Rock.

Sales for the four weeks ended July 29 were also the same as those of the same period in 1960. District sales to date are one per cent below those of last year.

number of patients per doctor in East Germany is up to about 1,400 compared to 700 in West Germany.

And many a skilled worker-refugee has amused himself with the thought of how tough it will be for his old Communist bosses to find a replacement. Besides being an economic drain,

Hope Ousted From Junior Tournament

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Danny Collins batted and pitched North Little Rock to a 3-7 13-inning victory over Fort Smith Thursday night in the state American Legion baseball tournament here.

He entered the game as a relief hurler in the ninth inning and promptly gave up the run that enabled Fort Smith to tie and send the game into extra innings.

In the four innings that followed, he made up for that mistake. He pitched shutout ball, socked a home run to tie the score, then tripled and scored in a single by Woody Butler to win it in the 13th.

Bill Gray pitched a one-hitter and struck out 15 men in hurling Helena to a 5-0 victory over Hope in another Thursday game. Walnut Ridge beat Newport 10-9 and Dermott eliminated Little Rock 4-1.

Today, Newport meets Dermott and Helena takes on Fort Smith in the losers' bracket, and Walnut Ridge and North Little Rock meet in the winner's bracket as the only remaining unbeaten teams.

The tournament ends Sunday. Collins pitched himself out of a jam in the last of the ninth inning of the late Thursday game. After he had given up the tying run, Fort Smith loaded the bases with two out and Collins threw three straight balls.

One more ball would have ended the game, but Collins then threw three straight strikes and retired the side.

Jim Folsome and Tom Smith, Fort Smith's two pitchers, struck out 28 North Little Rock batters. Folsome got 28 before leaving in the eighth inning.

Bill Gray played somewhat the same role as Collins in Helena's 5-0 victory over Hope in addition to hurling the one-hit shutout, he drove in Helena's first run with a single in the first inning.

Walnut Ridge scored its winning run against Newport in the eighth inning when Newport made three errors on one play. It began with a pickoff throw from the catcher which went into centerfield.

In the ninth, Newport got runners on first and third with nobody out. Then Gabby Hayes relieved Joel Wagner on the mound, struck out one man, got a runner at the plate when the batter missed a squeeze bunt, and struck out the last man.

Jesse James frequently used Meramec Caverns, Stanton, Mo., as a hideout during the 1870s. Horses could be ridden at full gallop more than a thousand feet inside the cave.

Finals in Little League Playoff

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Springfield and Malvern meet tonight for the state Little League baseball championship and the right to represent Arkansas in the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

Springdale beat Monticello Thursday night 2-1 with Rodney Springston going the route for the winners. Malvern beat Pine Bluff 4-1 with William Massey the winning pitcher in relief.

All four games in the state tournament won regional championships.

All-Star and Pro Game Is Tonight

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Navy's Joe Bellino, the smallest All-Star, tonight could become one of the biggest heroes of the midsummer football classic in Soldier Field that sends a squad of picked graduates collegians against the Philadelphia Eagles.

The 5-foot-8-inch, 173-pound All-American halfback—a Navy ensign—will be playing in his last game and would like to make his departure a long-remembered one. After it is over he will return to Annapolis for duty.

The 23rd annual game sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities Inc. will attract about 65,000 spectators and will be televised and broadcast by ABC starting at 9 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Bellino, 33, is the type of break-away runner and adept pass catcher that the National Football League champion Eagles know they must stop. He will be a marked man. But his last game could be a big one.

Although a saturation bombing by passers Norm Snead of Wake Forest, Bill Kilmer of UCLA and Tom Matte of Ohio State seems likely, the All Stars are well prepared to run against the pros.

The Eagles have a defensive secondary that could be tough against passing. But their line-backing could stand improvement and, defensively, they appear only moderately efficient against running.

The Eagles have been installed a 10-point favorite although they must face one of the better All-Star groups without the leadership and aerial power provided by Norm Van Brocklin last season. He is now coach of the Minnesota Vikings.

Clemente Bats Pirates to Win Over Cardinals

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh's Puerto Rican outfielder, thinks the writers erred when they voted his teammate, Dick Groat, over him as the National League's most valuable player in 1960.

The lapping Latin did much to further his cause Thursday night when he cracked five straight hits to lead a 24-hit onslaught against three St. Louis pitchers.

Whether Clemente wins the MVP title or not, he should, barring a catastrophe, capture the batting title. His mark of .365 is 24 points higher than that of his nearest competitor, Frank Robinson of Cincinnati.

Robinson bashed his 33rd home run as the Reds defeated Philadelphia 7-1 for their 15th victory in as many meetings with the Phillies this season. The triumph enabled the Reds to maintain their game lead over Los Angeles, which nipped San Francisco, 4-3, in 10 innings. Milwaukee defeated Chicago 5-2.

Detroit narrowed New York's first place margin in the American League to a game and a half by defeating Washington 2-1 as the Kansas City A's were taking a 60 decision from the Yankees.

Baltimore shutout Minnesota 3-0. Boston blanked Los Angeles 4-0 and Chicago's White Sox out-slugged Cleveland 8-6.

Harvey Haddix was the beneficiary of the Pirates' avalanche of runs against Al Cicotte, Bob Miller and Lindy McDaniel.

Every starting Pirate participated in the merciless slaughter. Smokey Burgess had a couple of homers and drove in six runs. Dick Stuart had a grand slammer and batted in five runs. Bill Mazeroski had four hits, and Bill Virdon, Don Hoak and Bob Skinner had three hits apiece.

Ken Johnson, who joined the Reds July 21, pitched his second victory, spacing nine hits as Cincinnati beat Philly righthander John Buzhardt for the fifth time this season.

An error by infielder Joe Amalfitano with two out and the bases full in the 10th inning permitted pitcher Larry Sherry to score with the Dodgers' winning run. The hitter was John Roseboro, whose home run in the ninth had tied the score at 3-3. It was an error by Roseboro, earlier, that enabled the Giants to break a 2-2 deadlock with an unearned run.

Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette had a one-hit shutout until the ninth when Al Hest singled and Ernie Banks followed.

27 games played and two have been ties.

The weatherman predicted a humid, warm night following a chance of afternoon thundershowers.

Yankees Lose, First Place Lead Narrows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pitchers finally had their day in the American League Thursday yielding only six home runs in five games, five of them in the Chicago-Cleveland contest won by the White Sox 8-6.

The only other home run was hit by Detroit's Rocky Colavito, which gave the Tigers a 2-1 triumph over Washington and narrowed the New York Yankees' first place lead over Detroit to a game and a half. The Yankees were defeated by Kansas City 6-1 with Bob Shaw holding Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and company to six hits, all singles.

Skinny Brown pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-0 victory over Minnesota. It was the 36-year-old right-hander's third straight shutout and extended his consecutive scoreless string to 32 innings.

Roogie Don Schwall of Boston blanked the Los Angeles Angels 4-0 with three hits for his 12th victory in 14 decisions and his sixth straight.

The hitters were more aggressive in the National League where Pittsburgh humiliated St. Louis 19-0, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 7-1 for the 15th straight time, Milwaukee downed Chicago 5-2 and Los Angeles nipped San Francisco 4-3 in 10 innings.

Brown of Baltimore and Jim Kaat of Minnesota were locked in a scoreless duel until the eighth when the Orioles scored three runs on two hits and a pair of Minnesota errors.

Detroit's Jim Bunning pitched a four-hitter against the Senators. The tall right-hander fanned six for his 12th victory, seventh in his last nine decisions.

Second baseman Jerry Lumpe, who once played for the Yankees, led the A's nine hit assault against loser Bud Daley, a former Kansas City pitcher. Lumpe had a double and triple, scored twice and drove in a run.

The Red Sox broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Schwall and Ken McBride of the Angels, scoring all their runs in the eighth.

Bubba Phillips got the Indians off to a 4-0 lead with a grand slam homer in the first inning but the White Sox came back with two runs in each of the second, third, fourth and ninth innings. The last two tallies, which proved to be the winning runs, resulted from relief pitcher Frank Funk's wild throw on a bunt. Luis Aparicio, with a home run and two singles, led the Sox' 3-hit attack.

A Bell spokesman estimated the cost of the wage increase in Arkansas at $850,000 and the system-wide cost at $6.3 million a year. The company said it would try to offset the added cost by increasing efficiency rather than ask for rate increases at this time.

Bell's pay scales at smaller operating points range from $66 a week for operators to $104.50 for craftsmen.

Travs Use Error to Beat Macon

By ROSS M. HAGEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Rugged Stan Palys apparently has regained the form which won him most valuable player honors in the Southern Association last year.

The strapping Birmingham outfielder is polling the baseball at a torrid pace and as a result the Barons are only half a game back of league-leading Chattanooga in the Southern Association race.

Palys' big bat was the deciding factor in the key game of a three-game series between the two clubs Thursday night. Birmingham whipped the Lookouts 8-0 with Palys enjoying a perfect evening at the plate. In three times at bat, he had three hits, drove to three runs and scored three times.

A pair of Macon errors in the 14th inning cost the Peaches a 9-4 defeat at the hands of Little Rock. Mobile trimmed Nashville 4-1 in the only other game completed. Shreveport jumped off to a 5-0 lead over Atlanta in the first inning, but the rains came and forced postponement of the contest.

Bell, Workers Come to Terms

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Southern Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America union today agreed on the White Sox came back with two runs in each of the second, third, fourth and ninth innings. The last two tallies, which proved to be the winning runs, resulted from relief pitcher Frank Funk's wild throw on a bunt. Luis Aparicio, with a home run and two singles, led the Sox' 3-hit attack.

A Bell spokesman estimated the cost of the wage increase in Arkansas at $850,000 and the system-wide cost at $6.3 million a year. The company said it would try to offset the added cost by increasing efficiency rather than ask for rate increases at this time.

Bell's pay scales at smaller operating points range from $66 a week for operators to $104.50 for craftsmen.

Travs Use Error to Beat Macon

By ROSS M. HAGEN

Rugged Stan Palys apparently has regained the form which won him most valuable player honors in the Southern Association last year.

The strapping Birmingham outfielder is polling the baseball at a torrid pace and as a result the Barons are only half a game back of league-leading Chattanooga in the Southern Association race.

Palys' big bat was the deciding factor in the key game of a three-game series between the two clubs Thursday night. Birmingham whipped the Lookouts 8-0 with Palys enjoying a perfect evening at the plate. In three times at bat, he had three hits, drove to three runs and scored three times.

A pair of Macon errors in the 14th inning cost the Peaches a 9-4 defeat at the hands of Little Rock. Mobile trimmed Nashville 4-1 in the only other game completed. Shreveport jumped off to a 5-0 lead over Atlanta in the first inning, but the rains came and forced postponement of the contest.
